Scholarly Forums and Associations

- JSPS Quarterly

  Japan Society for the Promotion of Science, known as Gakushin, is an independent administrative institution that promotes science and humanities fields in Japan. This quarterly reports outstanding researches, publications and conferences funded by this organization. This is a good resource to know about current Japanese research trends.

- H-US Japan Discussing U.S.-Japan Relations

  H-US-Japan is an edited, international, nonpartisan list that provides scholars, graduate students, politicians, journalists, policy-makers, researchers, professionals, and others a free daily forum to discuss US-Japan relations in the context of economic, security, political, and diplomatic issues.

- H-Asia Asian History and Studies

  The primary purpose of H-ASIA is to enable historians and other Asia scholars to easily communicate current research and teaching interests: to discuss new articles, books, papers, approaches, methods and tools of analysis: to test new ideas and share comments and tips on teaching.

- AAS The Association for Asian Studies

  A scholarly, non-political, non-profit professional association open to all persons interested in Asia and the study of Asia.

- PMJS Premodern Japanese Studies

  A worldwide network of scholars, students and professionals who do research specifically related to earlier periods of Japanese history, literature, art, culture, religion, and language.

- JAHF Japanese Art History Forum

  The Japan Art History Forum (JAHF) is affiliated with two professional societies in the United States, the College Art Association and the Association for Asian Studies. Membership is open to anyone worldwide with a serious scholarly interest in the study of Japanese art history, visual and material culture, including faculty and graduate students in art history and related fields, museum professionals, independent scholars, and serious collectors.
